

Where the Atlantic meets Europe

long 9° 6'W
lat 38° 42'N

The Port of Lisbon is the meeting point between Europe and the Atlantic Ocean. That's why it is a privileged gateway to flow sea cargo in and out of the European continent. Integrated in a multimodal logistics platform that combines sea, rail and road transportation, the Port of Lisbon provides high efficiency in cargo handling, with maximum safety and security. The Port of Lisbon handles all types of cargo but it is the containerised cargo and dry bulk foodstuffs that rank first place at national level. In order to fulfil the growing demand of its markets, the Port Authority has a medium and long term investment plan underway based on the continuous expansion of port infrastructures. Ship your cargo through Port of Lisbon and discover the Atlantic meeting point.

www.portodelisboa.pt

Porto de Lisboa
Atlantic meeting point